Stochastic Nonlinear Schrödinger Equations: Methods for Approximation and Optimal Control Results

Hannelore Lisei

This presentation explores some stochastic nonlinear equations of Schrödinger type perturbed by Wiener processes. It focuses on approximating variational solutions through a linearization technique. Additionally, it examines control problems and investigates the existence and approximation of optimal solutions.